Family Law Act proceedings

*Exhibited in response to para. 27
of the Claimant's 1st Statement*

---

The bail conditions meant that I had to leave my home and go and stay with my mother in Wiltshire (where I remain). When I must be in London for work (which is frequently), I have arranged to stay with friends. Unfortunately, because of Irene's deliberately obstructive behaviour, for over a month I did not have access to my basic personal belongings (including my glasses, contact lenses, passport and clothes) until Irene eventually granted a neutral third-party access to collect them. All of my other possessions are still at the property, and I need to be able to collect these in due course.

6. I accept that our relationship has ended and that we can no longer live together. We have been separated, and living separately (albeit in the same property) at our shared house at 92 Ollerton Road since around mid-July. I have been living with my mother in Wiltshire since 2 September (when I have commitments in London, I have arranged to stay with friends) and have not returned to 92 Ollerton Road since. Irene was very difficult about even granting a neutral third-party access to the property to collect my personal belongings and so I was without my basic personal belongings, including my glasses, contact lenses and work laptop for many weeks. I have no intention to return; the house and shared furniture etc. need to be sold and we need to go our separate ways. I have attempted to get Irene to have a sensible discussion and agree how we can action this on several occasions – see the correspondence exhibited from my solicitor and the messages referred to at paragraph 49 below, by way of example. However, I appreciate that Irene is attached to the property, and I have therefore made an offer for her to buy me out (pages 1 – 11). Irene has not responded to that letter.

Hi detective,

I hope you've managed to enjoy a bit of the sunshine...

Could you kindly send me an email with some sort of statement of truth that confirms the below:

- The Defendant immediately agreed to facilitate the collection of the Claimant's essential belongings — including his glasses, contact lenses, and work laptop — on the same morning after the arrest, 2 September 2024, via Tom [Surname], a neutral third party. This was carried out without delay or obstruction.

and not

- Irene was very difficult about even granting a neutral third-party access to the property to collect my personal belongings and so I was without my basic personal belongings, including my glasses, contact lenses and work laptop for many weeks.

I would be grateful if you could send me this as soon as you have a chance as I'm hoping to hand in my Civil proceeding statement to the Court next Monday.

Thank you so much,
Iren

Good afternoon Iren,

I do recall that we discussed arranging for a nominated party to pick up some belongings from outside the property on 2nd of September, and I do recall discussing this with Alexander, however I cannot recall what these items were as this is not something I made notes on at the time.

Please let me know if the court request any further information regarding this.

Good morning Iren –

I hope all is well and that you are managing to enjoy some time with your parents.

I was just wondering whether you've had the chance to think about whether you'd be willing to leave Alex's property outside for collection at some point?

I am back on borough next week and will try to arrange this facilitation and a face to face meeting as well if not.

Best regards
Jon
